CITY OF TUCSON PEDESTRIAN ADVISORY COMMITTEE FIRST MEETING

The 13-member City of Tucson Pedestrian Advisory Committee will meet for the first time on Wednesday, September 18, 2013 at the Transit Services Office, 149 North Stone Avenue downtown. The meeting begins at 6 p.m. in the second floor conference room.

The Mayor and Council approved the creation of the committee in February 2013 in a response to concerns over pedestrian safety and interest from the community in making Tucson a more walkable city. The Pedestrian Advisory Committee's mission is to provide input from a pedestrian perspective on major projects during the design phase of roadway improvements, bridges, street repaving and Plan Tucson.

There are 13 seats on the committee. The Mayor and each Council Member appointed one member. There are also six members representing different stakeholder groups that were appointed by the City Manager.
